

OCTOBER 2016 NEWSLETTER

Hello,

F&B OCTOBER 2016 MONTHLY MEETING

Tuesday, 11th October, 2016 @ 7.30 p.m.

PN City Library, Sound and Vision Zone,
George Street, Palmerston North

TALK: “Changing River Channels: Living with the Manawatu River”

Speaker: Dr Ian Fuller, Associate Professor in Physical Geography, Physical Geography Group & Innovative River Solutions, Massey University

Synopsis: The Manawatu River is unique in New Zealand, being the only river to cross the ranges that divide east from west, which it does through the Manawatu Gorge. The catchment drains a diverse range of landscape terrains, including hard greywacke, and softer limestones, mudstones and sandstones.

Ian will be talking about the catchment, geology, diversity of channel types within the catchment and modification by human activity, which has changed river channels in the catchment, both directly by deliberate intervention, and indirectly through land-use change.

All welcome. Gold coin donation appreciated

P.S. Bushy Park Developing Relationship with Rotokare Scenic Reserve:

Several Bushy Park Forest & Farm Committee members, Board members and volunteers recently visited Rotokare Scenic Reserve near Eltham. This is our nearest fenced sanctuary and we have a strengthening mutually beneficial relationship. Many of their staff and volunteers assisted us at the time of the rat incursion into Bushy Park Sanctuary and we have previously assisted a translocation of tieke/saddleback to Rotokare. We have now also agreed to the translocation of 30 toutouwai/North Island robin to Rotokare sometime between April and July 2017. We are pleased that the strength of Bushy Park's toutouwai population is deemed able to comfortably support the current small population at Rotokare.

GREEN CORRIDORS - PLANTING DAYS

Every Wednesday in October - All Day

Summerhill Drive, Palmerston North

Green Corridors runs regular volunteer planting days (half or full days) for casual volunteers most Wednesdays, in the Summerhill Drive area through winter and spring (weather dependant).

Planting often takes place along rough terrain and on hillsides so you must be physically fit.

Phone Courtney on 353 2904 or mobile 021 035 8019, or email courtney.starterplants@outlook.co.nz, by 4 pm the preceding Tuesday, if you are interested in participating.

KAHUTERAWA STREAM RESTORATION PROJECT - PLANTING WORK-PARTY

DATE: Saturday 22nd October 9.00 a.m.- 12 noon

We will plant a couple of the blocks of the Kahuterawa Stream downstream of Keeble's Bush, near the confluence with the Manawatu River. Mainly we will be planting mahoe, cabbage tree and Cyperus ustulatus. The area involves a trek through Keeble's Farm, so meet at the Pit Shed entrance, and we will convoy down in a seemly manner.

MEET: Please meet at the Sign-in book at the Pit Shed entrance to Keeble's Farm at 9.00am.

BRING: Bring a spade (if you have them), boots or heavy shoes, and a snack and drink. Long sleeves are a help as the Cyperus is scratchy and bad-tempered.

There will be no official pick-up in town, but if you need a lift out, please let Jill know and she will organise someone to collect you. CONTACT: Jill is on 358-9088 the night before.

NEWS FROM FOREST AND BIRD NATIONAL OFFICE

Forest and Bird National Office is moving location in December

<http://www.stuff.co.nz/oddstuff/84294674/tui-sculpture-felt-the-wind-beneath-her-wings-when-craned-down-from-forest--birds-roof>

Tui sculpture felt the wind beneath her wings when craned down from Forest & Bird's roof Izzy, the large tui sculpture that has enjoyed a birds-eye view over Wellington's Victoria and Ghuznee streets for the past 10 years, has taken to the sky.

Forest & Bird, the environmental organisation which organised for Izzy to be built in 2006 by artists associated with Weta Workshop, is relocating about 50 metres up Victoria St in the next few weeks. Izzy had to be craned down from her perch as the current Forest & Bird building would soon be demolished and replaced by apartment buildings.

Forest & Bird campaigns and advocacy manager Kevin Hackwell said it took six workers, including the crane driver, about an hour to lower Izzy to safety. She weighed 200 kilograms and was about four metres long and two metres high, Hackwell said Hackwell was there when Izzy was first lifted onto the roof 10 years ago, and said it was fascinating watching her get craned back down again.

"She is a good flyer; she attracted a small crowd of fans."

Izzy will spend the next few months in storage until Forest & Bird has raised enough money on PledgeMe for her to resume her rightful place looking over the Victoria St footpath.

As this month is Save the Kiwi Month, please enjoy this photo:

The Stewart Island Kiwi enjoy a diet of ‘surf and turf’. On the beach they look for sand hoppers and other creatures that live in the sand.

I found the image on Facebook.

That is about all for this month - I do hope I will meet you at one of our Monthly Meetings.
